Documentation and Publications

Documentation Centre on Women and Children DCWC is a special computerised Information Centre, engaged in identification, collection and documentation of information on issues related to Women and Children. It has a special collection of unpublished documents and statistics and is a member of Developing Libraries Network (DELNET). The following documentation and dissemination activities were undertaken during the year 2005-06.

a. Collection, Documentation and Dissemination of Information

During the year, DCWC collected 469 books, 700 unpublished documents, and subscribed to 79 foreign and Indian journals. The Centre also subscribed to 38 magazines and 25 newspapers.

The Documentation Centre brought out the following publications on monthly / quarterly basis.

- DCWC News-clips – newspaper clippings from 15 national and regional newspapers (monthly)

- DCWC Research Bulletin – bibliographic records with abstracts of research studies (quarterly)
- DCWC Contents Update – a compilation of content pages of national and international journals (quarterly)
- DCWC New Additions Service – bibliographic records of documents acquired by DCWC (quarterly)

b. Databases

DCWC maintained two 'Databases' viz 'Database of Documents' and 'Database of Organisations' which are widely used. The information collected in above formats was processed and integrated into the 'Databases'.

Factsheet on Women in India 2005

Information and statistics on various indicators depicting the situation of women and girls in India was collected from widely scattered sources. The information procured was compiled in the form of a document, both in English and Hindi, and disseminated for use of various stakeholders in the field.
